

Center for Gender in Global Context (GenCen)
MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Trainings & Workshops

Contact Us

www.gencen.isp.msu.edu

@MSUGenCen

Who We Are

The Center for Gender in Global Context (GenCen) serves as Michigan State University's hub for gender and sexuality research, teaching, and engagement with a global perspective. Our mission is to connect scholars, students, and community stakeholders with feminist knowledge to advance social change.

Trainings

We offer these workshops as part of our efforts to empower local actors to use their leadership and resources to work toward setting their own goals and making those solutions a reality.

Research Trainings

We offer customized trainings to researchers, practitioners and general audiences around the globe in the following broad areas:

1. Ethics and IRB training
2. Team-Based Data Collection
3. Understanding IRBs in the International Context
4. Designing Data Collection
5. Data Analysis Courses (examples include interview methods; content analysis; focus groups)
6. Building a Gender Inclusive Research Team

Inclusivity Trainings

We also offer general inclusivity trainings for all audiences that include:

1. Gender & Women's Leadership in Higher Education Institutions
2. Gender Inequity in Politics
3. DEI Education and Assessment
4. Intersectional and Antiracist Frameworks for Assessment
5. Student Transitions and Sense of Belonging
6. Intersectionality, Gender, and Sexual Violence Prevention
7. Academic Advising and DEI
8. Gender and Masculinity
9. Gender-Inclusive Community Needs Assessment
10. Gender Inclusion 101