

GENDER IN FORESTRY FROM LANDOWNERS TO PROFESSIONALS

Monday, February 26, 12:00-1:00pm
Room 201, International Center

Dr. Huff will present her past and current projects examining the role of gender in forest landownership and forest management. She will also explore how gender has shaped professionals in forestry.

Dr. Emily Huff is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Forestry. Her research and teaching explores the human dimensions of forestry from individual behavior to community forestry. Before MSU, Dr. Huff earned a Ph.D. in Forestry from the University of Maine, an M.S. degree in Natural Resource Science and Management, and B.A. in Environmental Studies. She also worked for the USDA Forest Service on the National Woodland Owner Survey.

All events are free and open to the public.
Feel free to bring a lunch; light refreshments will also be served!

Center for Gender
in Global Context
MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY