

MSU GENCEN FACULTY FELLOWS PROGRAM

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS 2019

The GenCen Faculty Fellows teach Women's & Gender Studies (WS) Courses, and receive support for their scholarship in gender, sexuality, and feminist studies.

Faculty from the College of Education are encouraged to apply for the Fellows Program. Fellows will teach one course per year for a two-year commitment, starting with the 2020-2021 academic year, and will receive $3,000 annually for their research and scholarship. Fellows can join the Faculty Fellows Learning Community, where they will receive support for their research.

College of Education Faculty interested in applying should submit the following materials:

- Cover letter explaining their interest in teaching WS courses, including the specific course(s) they would like to teach.
- Current CV
- Sample syllabus
- Statement from their home department chair indicating support for the faculty member to be a GenCen Faculty Fellow

DEADLINE: APRIL 19, 2019
